

Wilmington Churches, over the past weekend, held special services, to honor the martyred president.

Every church was thronged with mourners for the services. Even the Wilmington Synagogue, which has difficulty sometimes in holding services because 10 male Jews must be present, held two services with Morris Modelle reading the Prayer for the Dead.

PHILIP DALRYMPLE NAMED CO-OPERATIVE BRANCH MANAGER

Probably Philip Graham Dalrymple didn't plan it that way, but he happens to live next door to an old friend of the people of Wilmington - Rep. Frank D. Tanner, of the Massachusetts Legislature.

Mr. Dalrymple is to be the branch manager of the Reading Co-Operative Bank, which opens Saturday, in North Wilmington.

Mr. Dalrymple lives in Reading, on Federal Street. He is a graduate of Northeastern University, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business, from the College of Busi-

In spite of the Scots name the Dalrymple family has lived in the U.S. since, it is believed, Revolutionary War days. Mr. Dalrymple is the sort of man who has been working hard for the past few

PLANNING BOARD AND WATER COMMISSIONERS CONFERENCE

A meeting which lasted one and one quarter hours, Tuesday night in the Town Hall, between the Board of Water Commissioners and the Wilmington Planning Board, had only one subject - the extension of Hathaway Acres, and the suits involved, or threatened.

A P Rounds of Stoneham, developer of Hathaway Acres, has won a suit in court, over the Board of Water Commissioners, because of difficulties in the supplying of water to the latest section of his development. Since then he has attached the homes of the three commissioners for $15,000 each, and has told the Planning Board that his attorney is advising him to sue that board too.

Waldo Stevens, speaking for the Water Commissioners, told the Planning Board that several years ago, when the latest development was proposed, the Water Commissioners had ruled, for public safety, that there be no more water extensions on the present line, and that until another water main was laid independently of the main now serving the area, the board would not approve of any more service.

This he said, was to preclude fire dangers and similar possibilities.

Afterwards, Stevens said, the Board of Water Commissioners entered into an agreement with Mr Rounds that if he replaced a two inch main on Carson Avenue, which main led into Hathaway Acres from the Esquire Estates, the Commissioners would consider this to be the alternative supply main that they felt was necessary.

This was not done, Mr Stevens said.

He pointed out that the Water Commissioners had sent a letter to the Planning Board, and said that it had sent a copy to Mr Rounds.

The Town Counsel, according to Mr Stevens, was in accord with the Water Commissioners, and had planned the court arguments to be strictly on a basis of legality.

Unfortunately, Stevens said, the Town Counsel was unable to be present at the time the case came up in court, and another attorney presented the case for the Water Commissioners, with the result that Mr Rounds was given the decision.

Now the case has been appealed. Stevens noted that the Planning Board had made no restrictions on

The third meeting of the Walker School Mothers' Club was held Wednesday Nov 20 at 3 pm, with President Dorothy Fairweather presiding. There were 30 mothers present, and a baby sitter for the small children. The meeting opened with a coffee hour, and refreshments served by Frances Rasmussen and Jennie Stevens and Ruth McLain.

A bowling group has been organized this year for members who wish to bowl for pleasure, not for competition. They meet at the school at 9 every Tuesday, to go to the alleys. It has proved very enjoyable and any mother wishing to join may do so. Further information may be had from Mrs Fairweather at 658-3125.

The Walker School Mothers' Club meets the third Wednesday afternoon of each school month and is made up of mothers of pupils in the Walker School, with teachers as guests. The purpose of the club is to bring a closer relationship between the home and the school, and it is hoped that mothers of pupils attending the school will make an effort to attend, and make new friends.

There will be no December meeting, instead, on Wednesday afternoon December 18th the children of the school will present their annual Christmas program. A cordial invitation is extended to all Walker School mothers to attend.

JOSEPH ERRICO ATTENDED WHIRLPOOL WORKSHOP

Joseph R. Errico, 5 Baland Road No. Wilmington, district manager of The Eastern Company of Cambridge, has just returned from a unique Whirlpool Distributor Salesman's Workshop, at Whirlpool headquarters in Benton Harbor Michigan.

One of a series of week-long sessions for distributor salesmen of RCA Whirlpool appliances, the Salesman's Workshop was designed to present an intensive course in all phases of selling. For more than a product training school, the workshop focused on all phases of sales including profit planning and the development of advertising and sales promotion programs. Practical training in appliances was a feature gained through actual use of the appliances, and specially constructed training facilities and small groups allowed a great deal of individual participation.

INTEREST PAYMENTS AT RECORD HIGH

A record payment of close to $6 billion dollars in dividends will be made to depositors of Thrift Institutions this year. This constitutes a record both nation wide as well as in Massachusetts. Savings banks nationally are expected to contribute 1.7 billion to the total.

The thrift institutions in Massachusetts have been authorized to accept larger deposit limits, to enlarge their mortgage commitments and to extend credit in more substantial amounts through legislation enacted during the past few months. Thus, savings accounts in the Bay State are holding their position as the best way to invest basic funds with the attractive safety features of insurance in full.

the new extension, and was told that it was quite possible, because of the length of time involved in the discussions over the new development, that the Planning Board had forgotten it.

As a result of the decision, according to what Stevens said, the Town Counsel had agreed with the attorney for Mr. Rounds to allow water to be serviced to three homes which had been built in the new development, but, Stevens added, since then, and without the consent of the Board of Water Commissioners, water has also been turned on, in other homes.

Meters had been installed, Stevens said, which were not in conformity with the specifications of the Water Department, in that they read in gallons, and not in cubic feet, and he added that the only reason why the Water Commissioners do not turn off the service for these new homes is that they do not desire to affect the living arrangements of innocent parties.
